

duty nursing services; physical therapy and related services; dental services; laboratory and x-ray services; prescribed drugs, eyeglasses, dentures and prosthetic devices; diagnostic screening and preventive services, and any other medical care or remedial care recognized under state law.

In California, inpatient hospital services are not provided under this plan for Old Age Security recipients, since this care is available through county hospitals.

These amendments to the Social Security Act met with the approval of the A.M.A.'s prime criteria that any plan should be voluntary and tailored to help those who need it and should have participation by state or county. As the present program is liberalized in California in the next few months, it is anticipated that the various county medical societies will be called upon by the medical directors of the county welfare departments to assist in its proposed development.

Representatives of the profession will be called upon in the months ahead to assist in developing the second phase of the program. The law is broad enough so that such a program might be developed on a prepaid basis.
